It's a club! It's a cult! It's a not-so-secret society of hot and horny ass-fetishists! Introducing the Honeycomb Honeys, a gaggle of butt-obsessed gals longing to fit a custom-made oversized ass-stretcher into their ever-gaping nether regions. They worship the dark and mysterious totem known as "The Honeycomb," a dangerously ridged bum-cork of monster proportions that looks like a nuclear missile constructed by a particularly sinister swarm of killer bees. Now run for your lives! -- or bend over.

"Yawn"?

Nonsense!

Lochai, EverythingButt is the sexiest idea for a site I could possibly think of, and these girls are great.

You're also a lucky SOB because amber rayne is my favorite porn star!

But this video is good, it's funny how stuff like this comes about.

I can't wait for the EverythingButt launch!

Seeing people stick dildo's in their ass, to ME, that's boring. Unless where shown what else is involved..I remain unconvinced. I'm not saying people won't love it. The Bobbi Starr update & the Honeycomb Girl story, seemed to be them sticking a dildo in their ass, all be it...a very special dildo...and a very special arsehole (Bobbi's).

The Honeycomb Honeys is just a very small aspect of a very broad based site. A few girls started talking about one of many toys at their disposal during the shoot and it became something that some of the girls and some anal masturbation fans like. As with everything else servile1-27, some things you may like and others you may not like. Be civil or don't post here. Most of the site will be interaction between 2 or more anal players but the Anal Auditions (Bobbi Starr's update) will be all solo.

There will be two updates a week 1 short Anal Audition (masturbation) & 1 full EB (interaction) update, so there will be something for everyone. Some will have male Doms, some female Doms, others will have both at the same time. There will be enemas & toys & fists and licking. Some people will like everything, others will like only certain aspects. This site is very self explanatory, EVERYTHING BUTT, NOT just one person's fetish.... I happen to like just about every aspect of anal play & this site will reveal what I like about a woman's ass.....

Once the site launches, this forum will be for members only but till then is is open to all so please be civil...

Yea I know right.

Amber Rayne is an anal goddess, and can beat the hell out of me.

Honeycomb Honeys on Behind Kink!

She can do anal fisting, very large probes/objects, and I even one time saw her take a 8-12 inch double dildo and insert the thing ALL the way IN HER ASS.

That is telling me that she can actually make it go up into her colon by taking a right turn from the rectum into the the Sigmoid colon section.

Hell not only would I not be willing to put an object in past the sphincter, but also I wouldn't want something going past the rectum.

I mean, my sphincter wont even stretch past like 2 inches without some serious pain.

She is a pro at this!

I remember from an interview she did (I think with WeBeLez.com) she said that she prefers it in the ass because it can take more than her pussy!

You should have heard about this story she told about one time having to go to the ER when she put a cellphone up her ass for a shoot, and it getting sucked up so far it wouldn't come out. She then talked about how in the waiting room her phone rang from insider her and then she had to explain to all the people around her, LOL...

Sounded almost as bad as my neighbor (who is an ER doctor) telling me how one time a guy came in with a lightbulb stuck in his rectum..

Apparently his story was that he was on a ladder changing a light bulb when his dog tore off his pants and boxers, and made him fall somehow directly on the lightbulb causing it to magically go through his sphincter without breaking! Yea, right... haha

Wow, that's a hell of a story about Amber Rayne and her medical adventures! 😄 At least she came clean about it, unlike your neighbor's patient. Not very credible, that one, no.

Man, I want to see more of Amber now! 8-12 inches all the way? Serious? And it sounds like it would be fun to watch her stick a cell phone up her ass. Maybe we'll see some of that on EB?

I know what you mean.

I wish the people whom are in charge of sales would do something like other network sites allows access to various other areas.

I mean, it wouldn't have to be all at once, but perhaps something like PornPassForAll.com where the longer you stay a member, the more sites you eventually get to become a member of.

I bet that could spike up sales.

Attempted to obtain this information through kink.com support, but all I got back was first an automated message, then a brief, (probably another automated reply), reply suggesting that I go to the forums.

With regards to 'Everything Butt' I'm actually trying to find the source, distributor, reseller, or possibly the names of the 4 'dildos or plugs' shown / used in the movie, "Bobbi Starr becomes a Honeycomb Honey by fucking her own ass for her Anal Audition."

I had actually just seen a small advertisement picture of this off another web site, then opened the advertisement to try and find out more information, but all I got linked to was the kink.com site with offered to view various videos. Again, I attempted to contact kink.com support first, but no luck there.

I attached the advertisement image that I had seen, showing the 4 different dildos / plugs, (hope the attachment shows up). I've checked on the internet at some of the bigger toy distributors in the country, and couldn't find these anywhere.

Would appreciate any information anyone could provide that could help me find these. This is my first time on this forum, only came here to try and obtain this information, probably won't be hanging around here for any other reason. If anyone has the information I'm looking for, I would really appreciate if you would contact me directly with that information. Don't know if I could post a direct address here, but will give it the old try...jkb at comcast dot net.

Thanks.

The custom made toys are shown on this website where made by analman, AKA JDnozzles. The Honeycomb is in such high demand that Lochai and I are trying to get it mass produced. The ones for the EverythingButt site where all hand made and take a few hours each to produce. They are hand polished Delrin and offer extreme comfort, hold lube well, and are very easy to sterilize. If you want to see who joined the Honeycomb Club, follow this link:

<http://jdnozzles.tripod.com/id10.html>

The Main page to see all sorts of item for sale is as follows:

That explains a bit... Didn't know that these were actually 'nozzles'. They looked like typical black silicone dildos / plugs. Delrin does makes for very nice nozzles. Various people had been making Delrin nozzles and selling them on ebay years ago. Basically a little side business they ran out of their basement or garage. One person I had ordered a few through was using an old wood lathe to make them. So yes, making them in this fashion, by hand, and you are talking a lot of time involved for each piece!

Any machine shop with a CNC machine can mass produce these, even down to a smooth polished finish. Two issues, well actually three. First the initial set-up, the writing of the program for the CNC machine. Then the cost of the Delrin, which isn't cheap these days! It's still a plastic based material, meaning that it's an oil based material. Also the demand for this extremely durable material has driven the prices up. Then naturally labor costs, (even though the machine is doing all the work).

And the cost for each piece is going to depend on the quantity being made during a run. Naturally the higher quantity, the lower the cost will be for each piece. Short runs will cost a lot more! Machine shops charge a lot for that initial machine set up, even after a program has been written for it.

One has to question if there is more of a demand for a 'nozzle', or for a dildo / plug in these various sizes and shapes. As mentioned, Derin does make for very good nozzles, however one drawback is that there is no give to them, such as in, say a silicone type product, like a dildo or plug.

When I first initiated the question about these, I was looking for a dildo / plug, not a nozzle. And in those sizes and shapes, for the purpose of a dildo or plug, a softer silicone based product with some give, would be much better.

If it is found that there would be more of a demand for these shapes, sizes for use as dildos and plugs, a very good source to take this to, would be to talk to Scott at Square Peg Toys. Scott does mass produce very high quality silicone based dildos and plugs, and in sizes and shapes that would make those on 'Everything Butt' go running for a door! Scott sells direct as well as through distributors such as Mr. S Leather. And I'm sure that some deal could be worked out to have him make these exclusively for whoever wanted their lable on them. Who knows, he may possibly can even put a hole down the center so they can be used as a nozzle? He can and does make dildos and plugs in both a softer and firmer material. Doesn't hurt to ask...

Maybe a survey should be taken... The harder Delrin or a softer, high grade, (actually a medical grade), silicone?

Oh, these are delrin eh?

Soo... Now is a good time for me to chime in and mention that I am a Mechanical Engineer, and I run the machine shop at my work - in the south bay area.

We have two CNC mills and a CNC lathe, and i have all the access to them that I want.

Honeycomb Honeys on Behind Kink!

I actually made my own little toy last night. From start to finish it literally only took a half hour.

This one's a little guy - about 3" long, made from 6061 Aluminum. We do delrin a lot here too, and stainless steel.

Lochai, could you contact me? I've been meaning to get a hold of you, I have some other kink things I am working on and I have been interested in hooking up with you guys.

Send me an e-mail at tlalexander at gmail? I'd like to see what we can do, and show you some more of my work!

Actually the Honeycomb & the plugs used by Bobbi Starr during her Anal Audition shoot are solid plugs and not nozzles. there is not a hole running through them. The nozzles are the items used on Bella in Enema Submission & Dia in Enema Desires.

You are very correct, they are solid & with zero give. This is what makes them such great stretchers & why the Honeycomb Honeys are a special breed of anal loving women. We are looking to manufacture both styles of plugs, silicone & plastic.
